

A row of green metal shopping carts in a supermarket aisle, with the text "Has your supermarket answered the call?" overlaid. The word "your" is highlighted in yellow. The background shows a perspective view of the carts receding into the distance.

Has your supermarket answered the call?

Has your grocery company answered the call to set higher standards?

Recently, all of the major grocery companies were invited to participate in discussions regarding standards for wages, benefits, health, safety and other working conditions in the supermarket industry.

We will report to you as developments occur.

In the meantime, you can help by visiting YourBreadandButter.com and completing the online survey.

Don't forget to enter our online contest.

You can win $100 worth of groceries!

